

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

PREFACE.

The tenth convention authorized and instructed the Grand Secretary to issue a general catalogue of the Fraternity. In December, 1906, a Directory of the Fraternity was issued.

In compiling this catalogue an effort was made to combine simplicity and utility. It is hoped it will be a satisfaction to the Fraternity that the catalogue is a fact.

I wish to thank the members of the Council, the Chapter Corresponding Secretaries and the Historians for valuable assistance rendered.

HISTORICAL.

The successful development and permanent maintenance of any organization depends largely on the sound, rational and worthy character of the foundations laid at its inception. This fraternity was fortunate in having for its first members men of character, strength and a thorough knowledge of organization; in its choice of a well established school in which to take root; and in possessing a ritual equaled, perhaps, by that of no other like body. Its members were linked together by bonds at once worthy and inspiring.

A brief survey of its history from that memorable evening of September twenty-ninth, eighteen hundred and eighty-eight, when a group of students in the Medical Department of Dartmouth College assembled to form a local organization, to its present flourishing condition, reveals the steady, constant, healthful growth of Alpha Kappa Kappa into a sectional fraternity, then into a national organization, and finally to the proportions of an international body. How well we realize the truth of that oft repeated statement of our Past Grand President: "They builded better than they knew."

Alpha remained the only chapter until 1893, when Gamma was instituted in Tufts College Medical School. Then during the succeeding four years chapters were also established in the University of Vermont, Long Island College Medical School, and Bowdoin University, so that the organization at this stage of its growth attained to the dignity of a sectional fraternity.

In 1898, Psi Chapter was instituted in the University of Minnesota, and these six have since become known as "the original six." The fraternity was now beginning to assume the characteristics of a national organization.

The next five years witnessed the most rapid growth of any period in its history. Chapters were instituted in the College of Physicians and Surgeons of San Francisco, Jefferson Medical College, University of Illinois, University of Syracuse, University of Chicago, Northwestern University, Denver and Gross Medical College, and the University of California.

The next period, marking an epoch in our development, occurred in 1903, when the chapters of Phi Kappa Psi fraternity in the following schools were taken over by Alpha Kappa Kappa: University of Tennessee, University of Nashville, University of the South, and Vanderbilt University. Soon after this chapters were established in Tulane University and in the University of Georgia.

In 1904 we may be said to have entered upon our international stage of development, for in that year we instituted chapters in McGill University and in the University of Toronto.

This outline represents in a way the growth and development of our fraternity by periods. If we add to those already enumerated our chapters in George Washington University, Yale Medical School, University of Texas,

HISTORICAL.

University of Michigan, University College of Medicine, Richmond, Va., and Medical College of the State of South Carolina and St. Louis University School of Medicine, we arrive at a total of thirty-five chapters.

The Council has been honored with petitions from many other schools which for one reason or another it felt justified in declining, either conditionally or otherwise.

No chapter has lapsed, a distinction we share with few other fraternities. More than half of our chapters have chapter houses, and where these are lacking assembly rooms are provided. The order maintains a quarterly magazine.

The Society of the Aesculapiades, or Alpha Kappa Kappa, was granted a charter by the legislature of the state of New Hampshire, July 25, 1889.

An examination of the records, as found in our archives, reveals many interesting things regarding the work done for us by eminent men.

Dr. C. A. Catherwood furnished the rooms in which the first convention met in Hanover, New Hampshire, March 4, 1895. At this convention Professor Charles P. Thayer, M. D., was elected Grand President. Dr. H. S. Baketel wrote our first constitution and by-laws, and presented them at this time. The preservation of the minutes of the first four conventions we owe to Dr. A. G. Foord.

Brother Thayer was re-elected Grand President at the second and third conventions. He has done much for Alpha Kappa Kappa.

At the fourth convention Brother George Cook, M. D., was elected Grand President and during ten years he held that office. Under his guardianship the chapter roll increased from six to thirty-four. His is a record of which every Alpha Kappa Kappa brother is justly proud. He has devoted to this work unstintingly of his time and money.

During seven years the second officer was our late lamented brother, John I. French, M. D., a true fraternity man, and a loving friend.

The fourth member of the "Old Guard," Brother Edward R. Pfarre, M. D., is serving us so well. He of good fellowship and the fraternity strong box.

The first Editor of the Centaur was our late lamented brother, Elmer J. Barney, M. D., who placed the magazine, editorially, on a sound foundation.

The newer members of the Council, Brothers James Brew, M. D., and J. P. Sprague, M. D., are taking excellent care of their departments.

I wish space permitted me to go on naming more of our loyal members. Among them are many men of prominence in the professional and social life of this continent. I could also name many sturdy active members who have done much to strengthen the individual chapters. THE COMPILER.

ALPHA CHAPTER.

Founded September 29, 1888.

Medical School, Dartmouth College,
Hanover, N. H.

The history of Alpha Chapter is, of necessity, the early history of our fraternity, and it seems peculiarly fortunate that this Chapter was formed in the ancient and honorable institution of Dartmouth College, in the State of New Hampshire. This college is so well known that it is hardly necessary to say much; but its charter was granted by George III in 1769, and through all the subsequent years it has held a very enviable position among American educational institutions. The Medical School, founded in 1798, is the third oldest school of its kind in our country; and from its inception has maintained a high standard. Its faculty and long list of alumni have certainly done credit to the medical profession, and our fraternity enjoys the unique honor of being the only national one created in any of the departments of Dartmouth College. For many years it had been the custom for groups of young men in the Medical School to band themselves together for the purpose of mutual improvement by way of quizzes and discussions, and after it became the policy for medical students to have four years' residence in an institution, it occurred to a certain group there that it might be to their advantage as well as for the good of the school to form a permanent organization and establish a fraternity along lines similar to those that had long been in existence in the Academic and other departments. In 1888 this thought began to materialize, and on the 29th of September they held their first meeting for the election of officers, though of course many preliminary meetings had led up to this occasion. In laying the foundation of our fraternity they were especially favored in having the aid of scholarly men, for they builded better than they knew. In the year 1889 a charter was granted by the State of New Hampshire, and I think we may safely say that ours was the first chartered Greek letter society in medical schools ever established in this country. At that time a national fraternity was not even thought of, much less an international one; but as time went on a Chapter was formed at Tufts Medical School in Boston, and another in the Medical Department of the University of Vermont at Burlington, and these three Chapters, through its delegates, came together in Hanover, New Hampshire, April 9, 1895, and formed themselves into a general fraternity. From that time on prosperity has seemed to follow our institution, until we now have thirty-five Chapters scattered throughout the United States and Canada.

BETA CHAPTER.

Instituted May 19, 1899.

Medical Department, College of Physicians and Surgeons,
San Francisco, Cal.

In the year 1896 the College of Physicians and Surgeons of San Francisco was incorporated under the provisions of the Civil Code of the State of California. In 1899 the trustees erected a magnificent college building near the geographical center of San Francisco, on Fourteenth Street, between Mission and Valencia. This splendid structure and its equipment were entirely destroyed by the great San Francisco fire of April 18, 19 and 20, 1906. They erected a second building in time for the opening day, September 17, 1906.

Beta Chapter was instituted May 19, 1899, with twenty-two charter members. It was the result of correspondence carried on by Brother Carl Wilson, M. D., and a few enthusiastic organizers. Brothers E. S. Howard, M. D., and Winslow Anderson, M. D., were very active in the Chapter's organization. Beta feels a just pride in the energy and enthusiasm that made her the original Chapter of Alpha Kappa Kappa, and the second of any National Medical Fraternity to have been instituted on the Pacific Coast.

GAMMA CHAPTER.

Instituted December 12, 1893.
Tufts College Medical School,
Boston, Mass.

August 28, 1893, the trustees of Tufts College voted to establish a medical department. August 29, the day following, the decision of the trustees, seven medical men of experience and clinical ability, formed themselves into a faculty and agreed to assume the care and responsibility for the first three years. These men were Drs. Thayer, Dudley, Nott, Hall, Chipman, Wheatley and Johnson.

The school year started October, 1893, with a faculty of twenty-five and student attendance of eighty. In June, 1894, the first class was graduated, numbering twenty-two. Since then the growth has been phenomenal. Three times it has been necessary to change quarters in order to afford better facilities. At present the combined Tufts Medical and Dental Schools occupy and own the practically new building at the corner of Huntington avenue and Ruggles street, in the fast growing Fenway District.

Gamma Chapter was founded the same year that Tufts College established its medical department by our widely known and dearly beloved Charles P. Thayer, M. D. The Chapter was instituted December 12, 1893, and made its first home at the old school building, 188 Boylston street. Dr. Thayer was elected Grand President at the first convention, held at Hanover, March, 1895. He was re-elected March 24, 1896, and again re-elected April 7, 1897.

The Chapter rooms, 230 Hemmenway street, are within one hundred yards of the school building, which is, of course, convenient in many ways. The ground suite is occupied by the Chapter. We, of course, look forward to a fraternity house.

DELTA CHAPTER

Instituted May 2, 1894.

Medical Department, University of Vermont,
Burlington, Vermont.

The Medical Department of the University of Vermont is one of the oldest institutions in the United States. Anatomy and surgery were taught as early as 1809. Chemistry and Pharmacy, Botany, Materia Medica and Physiology had professorships from 1821. In 1836, because of the death of Dr. Tincon, the leading spirit, the college closed until 1840. Since the early days the standard for graduation has become higher each year, keeping pace with the better class of Medical Schools.

A completely new building takes the place of the old Medical Building, burned in 1903, at the corner of North Prospect and Pearl streets, standing at the same site. A perfect structure of its kind, of which the Alumni are justly proud. Its site is commoding, which is saying much when one writes of Burlington, Vermont.

Delta Chapter was conceived during the winter of 1894, and instituted May 2, 1894.

The charter members of the senior class were:

Vasquez Francisco Colon,	John P. O'Brien,
Louis Joseph Cooke,	Frederick Luke Osgood,
George Albert Elmwood,	Paul Plummer.

All becoming Doctors of Medicine that year.

The most successful year in the history of our Chapter, as regards the graduation of men, were 1904 and 1905, twenty-five men receiving degrees.

EPSILON CHAPTER

Instituted January 6, 1900.
Jefferson Medical College,
Philadelphia, Penn.

The Jefferson Medical College was organized in 1825 as the Medical Department of the Jefferson College at Canonsburg, Penn. The first class was graduated in 1826, and for each of the subsequent eighty-three years other classes have received the medical degree. In 1838 the legislature of Pennsylvania conferred upon this institution a separate university charter, making it an independent corporation, with the same power and restrictions as the University of Pennsylvania.

The college buildings are situated on the corner of Walnut and Tenth streets, and on Sansom between Tenth and Eleventh streets. They consist of the Medical Hall, the Laboratory Building, Jefferson Medical College Hospital, Clinical Amphitheater and the Nurses' Home. The Jefferson Maternity is situated on Washington Square, 224 South Seventh street.

The Jefferson Society of the Jefferson Medical College of Philadelphia was installed as Epsilon Chapter of the Alpha Kappa Kappa Fraternity on Saturday evening, January 6, 1900.

ZETA CHAPTER

Instituted March 21, 1896.

Long Island College Hospital Medical School,
Brooklyn, N. Y.

The Long Island Medical College Hospital was organized in conjunction with the Long Island College Hospital for the purpose of correlating didactic medical instruction with clinical instruction.

The Institution is situated in the Borough of Brooklyn, in the City of New York, on Henry street, near Atlantic avenue.

The equipment of the Long Island College Hospital consists of four modern buildings, namely, the new Hospital, now in the process of construction; the Hoagland Laboratory, the Dudley Memorial Home for Nurses and the Polhemus Memorial Clinic.

The life history of Zeta Chapter is one of marked aggressiveness. While its official life began on March 21, 1896, yet the foreshadowing of this Chapter can be traced back one year earlier, when Brother A. S. Reeve made application to Alpha Chapter, of which he was a member, for a charter to establish a local Chapter at Long Island Medical College Hospital in Brooklyn, N. Y.

Under the original name of Alpha Epsilon Kappa this embryonic Chapter existed unofficially during the early part of the collegiate year 1895-1896.

On March 21, 1896, Zeta Chapter was duly inaugurated and established as an offspring of Alpha Kappa Kappa Fraternity. Its charter members consisted of ten, one of whom was our Grand Treasurer, Brother Edward R. Pfarre, M. D.

ETA CHAPTER

Instituted December 7, 1899.

College of Physicians and Surgeons of Chicago.

College of Medicine of the University of Illinois.

Chicago, Illinois.

The College of Medicine of the University of Illinois, the College of Physicians and Surgeons, is located on the corner of Congress and Honore streets, Chicago, in the heart of the medical quarters of the city. It was founded in the year 1882 by a number of representative physicians and surgeons. In 1892 the college had a thorough reorganization, and erected a commodious laboratory building, the first building exclusively for laboratory purposes erected by any medical institution in the West. Since that time it has grown with steadiness and rapidity. It became the medical department of the university in April, 1897. The college buildings occupy three-fourths of a city block, lying between Harrison, Congress, Honore and Lincoln streets.

Eta Chapter was instituted in the College of Physicians and Surgeons of Chicago, December 7, 1899.

THETA CHAPTER

Instituted June 1, 1897.

Maine Medical School, Bowdoin College,
Brunswick, Maine.

Maine Medical School is the Medical Department of Bowdoin College. It was established by the first Legislature of the State and by its charter placed under the control of the Board of Trustees and Overseers of Bowdoin College. The course of instruction covers four years of eight months each. The first two years of instruction are imparted in Brunswick, Maine, where the School has been situated since its foundation in 1820. The third and fourth year classes are instructed in Portland, Maine, twenty-eight miles from Brunswick. This separation took place nine years ago, due to the greater advantages clinically in the latter city. The building devoted to the class rooms in Portland is situated near the Maine General Hospital, and also near Eye and Ear Infirmary and two private Hospitals.

IOTA CHAPTER

Instituted December 11, 1899.

Medical Department, Syracuse University,
Syracuse, New York.

The College of Medicine is the successor of two once famous Medical Schools. The first was that of Fairfield, which was incorporated in 1812 and flourished till 1839. When discontinued part of its faculty went to the then young Geneva Medical School. In 1872 this justly celebrated School became the Medical Department of Syracuse University, which is located at 309 Orange Street.

It would be difficult to tell whence came the germ that developed and grew into the Iota Chapter of Alpha Kappa Kappa. We know, however, that we are indebted to the men of the classes of 1899 and 1900 for completing the organization of this Chapter.

The organization of Iota Chapter was completed at the Vanderbilt Hotel, on Monday, December 11, 1899, and was instituted by Grand President Cook, Grand Treasurer Pfarre and Grand Secretary Collins.

LAMBDA CHAPTER

Instituted March 7, 1901.

Cornell University Medical College, New York City,
New York.

The College building occupies the entire block at Twenty-eighth Street and First Avenue, opposite Bellevue Hospital, with which it is affiliated. It is the most up-to-date Medical College building in New York City. The Medical Department at Ithaca is also finely equipped, and if the student desires he can take his first two years there under the inspiring influence of a most beautiful country and he can get a taste of college life which the average student in the city is denied.

The Chapter was instituted at Zeta House.

NU CHAPTER

Instituted April 27, 1901.

Rush Medical College,
Chicago, Illinois.

Rush Medical College was founded by its first President, Daniel Brainerd. The first course of lectures was delivered in a frame building on Clark near Randolph street in 1843. In 1867 a larger building was erected upon the site of the old one, but was destroyed by the great fire of 1871. In 1875 the present clinical building was erected and a laboratory building added in 1893. The clinical facilities were greatly increased by the additions of Senn Memorial Building, in 1903. In 1898 an affiliation was established with the University of Chicago, where four large laboratory buildings are located.

With fifteen charter members, Nu Chapter was instituted by Dr. Cook in the parlors of Eta Chapter house.

OMICRON CHAPTER

Instituted October 28, 1901.

Miami Medical College,
Cincinnati, Ohio.

The Miami Medical College was organized in 1852. The following named physicians composed the faculty: Drs. Jesse P. Judkins, R. D. Mussey, Charles L. Avery, John Davis, John F. White, George Mendenhall, John A. Murphy, C. G. Comegys and John J. Lock. Every member of the faculty was distinguished in the profession, and also recognized by the laity as among the leading men of their day. The character thus given to the college at its inception has been maintained throughout its cover, so that it has always been among the pioneers in the advancement of medical education. Owing to the connection of members of the faculty with the principal hospitals of the city, clinical instruction has been a feature of the Miami College, enabling most of her graduates to obtain positions as Interns.

Omicron Chapter's charter group was made up from the members of Zeta Nu, a local fraternity founded in 1893, and from "The Lancet" Club, founded in 1900. Brother George S. Mytinger was most active in the organization of this chapter.

PI CHAPTER

Instituted October 2, 1902.
Starling Ohio Medical College,
Columbus, Ohio.

The Ohio Medical University was incorporated December 31, 1890, but the organization was not completed until later. The first term was opened September, 1892, in a private house on Park Street, north of the present college buildings which were in progress of construction at the time, but which were not finished for the reception of students until the early part of 1893.

Early in the progress of the school the Protestant Hospital was organized and its clinical facilities were made accessible to the students. This Hospital was promoted and encouraged mainly by the trustees and faculty of the Medical school, who also aided it financially. After fifteen years of successful work, and an Alumni numbering about thirteen hundred, the Ohio Medical University merged with the Starling Medical College into the Starling Ohio Medical College.

On the second day of October, 1902, Pi Chapter of Alpha Kappa Kappa was installed by Grand President Cook. Visiting brothers from Omicron Chapter extended a welcoming hand to the new brothers upon that occasion and made the infant Chapter feel that they were already tasting of the pleasures of fraternal life.

At the time of the union of the Ohio Medical College with Starling Medical College Pi Chapter absorbed the Chapter of Phi Sigma Psi, the local fraternity at Starling.

TAU CHAPTER

Instituted July 15, 1903.

Medical Department, University of the South,
Sewanee, Tenn.

Far to the Southland, with its miracle magnolias and its glad Savannah lands, upon a mountain top, stands the most unique University in all the land. A veritable paradise, it possesses all the charm of the Sunny South. Its massive buildings are of Sewanee sandstone and rise above the crest of the Cumberland, a picturesque silhouette against a field of blue. Ten thousand acres of forest land surround the cañons. Sewanee is the fosterchild of the Episcopal church, and was founded before the Civil War. Its endowment was swept away by that war and it was forced to struggle for years to maintain existence. Through the faith of her founders and their followers it stands today the peer of the Southern universities.

In 1903 the members of a local fraternity, Phi Kappa Psi, applied for a charter and were granted one. Otis H. Johnson, E. B. McCready, Henry H. Powers, G. R. Seikel, J. L. L. Kirby Smith and the lamented Scott Mendenhall were among her most enthusiastic founders.

CHI CHAPTER

Instituted March 24, 1903.

Medical Department, Vanderbilt University,
Nashville, Tenn.

Vanderbilt Medical Department was organized in 1874, the first class graduating in the spring of 1875. The Medical Department was reorganized in 1895, and the same year a new building was erected at the corner of Elm and Sumner streets. The building is four stories high and has ground floor space of ten thousand square feet. Every facility is afforded for conducting a combined didactic, laboratory and clinical course. In 1906 the College fitted up its own Hospital, which affords much practice work for Juniors and Seniors.

Chi Chapter charter roll was made up of the members of a local Chapter of Phi Kappa Psi Fraternity, and came into the fold of Alpha Kappa Kappa when the other Chapters of the Southern Fraternities were taken over.

PSI CHAPTER

Instituted February 25, 1898.

Medical Department, University of Minnesota,
Minneapolis, Minn.

The Medical Department is housed on the University Campus in a group of separate buildings. The old Main building, now known as Millard Hall, was put up for the new Medical College in 1889. A few years later the laboratory for medical science and a smaller building for medical chemistry were built. In 1900 a separate building for the Department of Anatomy became necessary. In 1907 the new Institute of Public Health and Pathology was opened, marking the beginning of a new era in the Medical Department, as it is the first building of the department which is thoroughly fireproof and up to date. The University also owns a building on Washington Avenue which is used as a dispensary, and controls the St. Paul Free Dispensary. Clinics are also held regularly in almost all the hospitals of St. Paul and Minneapolis. Within a year the new University Hospital, the money for which was bequeathed to the University by the late Dr. and Mrs. Elliott, will be ready for use.

Psi Chapter is the successor of the Alpha Rho Society, a local organization that petitioned Alpha Kappa Kappa for a charter in December, 1897. This charter was granted January 15, 1898. Brother L. J. Cook of Delta installed the new Chapter February 15. The Chapter requested that it be designated by the letter "Psi" and this request was granted.

OMEGA CHAPTER

Instituted March 24, 1903.

Department of Medicine, University of Tennessee,
Nashville, Tenn.

Under the name of Blount College it was chartered by the legislature of the territory south of the River Ohio, on September 10, 1794. It received its name from William Blount, the Governor of the Territory, and was located near the present center of the City of Knoxville. In 1807 it transferred its corporate funds, property and effects to the East Tennessee College, just chartered by the State of Tennessee. In 1840 the name of the College was changed by an act of the legislature to East Tennessee University, and in 1879 it was again changed by making it the University of Tennessee. At this same time it adopted as its Medical Department the Nashville Medical College, which had been organized in 1876 by Drs. Paul F. Eve and W. K. Bolling.

Omega Chapter together with Phi and Chi Chapters were chartered in March, 1903.

ALPHA DELTA CHAPTER.

Instituted November 24, 1904.

Medical Department, McGill College and University,
Montreal, Quebec, Canada.

The Medical Department was founded in 1829. Five years' course instituted 1907. Medical Library of over 25,000 volumes. New Medical Building costing $750,000 to be ready for occupancy in 1909. Hospitals in connection are Montreal General, Royal Victoria, Alexandra (Contagious Diseases), Maternity and Protestant Hospital for Insane.

Alpha Delta Chapter occurred on October 9, 1904, when Dr. Cook, Dr. True, Brothers Hill, Soley and Machampton met at St. Lawrence Hall. According to custom, at the Grand Accoucheur, President Cook, delivered twenty-seven noble sons of McGill as embryos in Alpha Kappa Kappa. Much credit is due to all the charter members, perhaps more especially to Brother True of Sigma, Brother Hill of Alpha and Brothers Soley, Sinclair and Noble for their labor in the establishment of the Chapter. Of the total number of graduates to date (thirty), twenty-three have received hospital appointments solely on merit.

ALPHA EPSILON CHAPTER

Instituted April 6, 1905.

Medical Department, University of Toronto,
Toronto, Canada.

Toronto University is a provincial institution, under control of a Board of Governors appointed conjointly by Lieutenant Governor in Council and graduates of the University. Term—Five years of eight months each, clinical teaching in three hospitals.

Dr. Reginald Walker MacIntyre may rightly be termed the Father of Alpha Epsilon Chapter. He became interested in fraternity life early in 1904 and shortly afterwards met our revered Grand President Dr. Cook and was immediately enthused. It was not long before he succeeded in enthusing others who are now numbered among our alumni. Application was made for charter, which was granted, and the first convocation ever held in Ontario was held in the parlors of the King Edward Hotel, April 6, 1905. On the evening of the installation Dr. MacIntyre was ill in Brampton, whither Dr. Cook journeyed the next day to administer the obligation and install the President, something unique in the annals of Alpha Kappa Kappa. The Chapter is located in a home owned by the Chapter.

ALPHA ETA CHAPTER

Instituted January 31, 1906.

Yale Medical School,
New Haven, Connecticut.

The Medical Department of Yale University was organized as a separate department of the University in 1810, and instruction was begun in the fall of 1813. The school owns and occupies four buildings: Medical Hall, the Chemical Laboratory Building, the Medical and Surgical Laboratory and the University Clinic. Clinical instruction is given in the New Haven Hospital.

In October, 1905, Yale men first thought of starting a new fraternity in their school. James R. Coffey, M. D., 1907, had previously met President Cook and had talked over fraternity matters, and as the men wished a National Fraternity, Dr. Coffey began to correspond with President Cook. A banquet was held at the Oneco at which Dr. Cook, Dr. Pfarre, Dr. Tuttle and Dr. Putman were present.

ALPHA THETA CHAPTER

Instituted April 20, 1906.

Medical Department, University of Texas,
Galveston, Texas.

The first annual session of the Medical Department began on October 1, 1891, and closed on April 22, 1892. The College building occupies a block of ground and upon the contingent block is situated the John Sealy Hospital, the property of the State and a part of the Medical Department of the University of Texas. The students have the clinical advantages afforded by the John Sealy Hospital and also the wards of the Saint Mary's Infirmary, an excellent hospital under the care of the Sisters of the Incarnate Word, two blocks from the College. Here also are drawn clinical subjects by the members of the Staff of the Hospital, who are also connected with the school. The Medical College building was erected in 1890 at the cost of $86,000, exclusive of furnishings and equipment. The building is large and commodious, modern in construction and imposing in architecture. The school is supported by the State of Texas exclusively, and no tuition is charged. This advantage is open to the people of Texas and other States.

Alpha Theta Chapter originated from "Omicron Nu," a local fraternity organized in the University of Texas Medical Department, November, 1905. Later through a desire to become a Chapter in the Alpha Kappa Kappa Fraternity a charter was sought and granted. This was accomplished through the untiring efforts and ability of Charles Adolph Bahn, the Secretary and Treasurer of Omicron Nu, the aid of James Scott Tomkies and Dr. Hayden Mozart Simmons, Professor of Therapeutics in the University of California and a member of Sigma Chapter.
